

EleQuenceTM
THE NEXT EXPRESSION IN ENGINEERED STONE

elemaroregon.com

EleQuence represents a new era in engineered surfaces.

Crafted from a proprietary, next generation blend, EleQuence is designed to deliver the beauty, durability, and performance expected of engineered stone, while reimagining the material from the ground up.

Developed as a forward thinking alternative to traditional quartz surfaces, the EleQuence Collection is engineered with significantly reduced crystalline silica content, supporting today's evolving safety standards without compromising aesthetics or strength. Every slab is formulated for enhanced workability, improved fabrication experience, and long-term reliability in both residential and commercial environments.

Inspired by natural stone yet built for modern living, EleQuence combines refined textures, advanced material science, and timeless tonal palettes to create surfaces that elevate any space. From soft honed finishes to dimensional leathered textures, each product is crafted to meet the demands of innovation.

EleQuence is more than a material— it is the next expression in engineered stone.
